Dear Tingwei:

Congratulations! It is our great pleasure to offer you admission to UCLA for the Fall Quarter 2023. You have been admitted to the UCLA College of Letters and Science with Pre Data Theory as your academic major.

You were selected from an exceptional pool of nearly 24,000 transfer applicants to UCLA. Your talents and academic accomplishments are remarkable, and we know that you will thrive here.

UCLA is truly a world-class university. Here you will have access to incredible academic programs, world-renowned faculty, and impactful research programs. Our beautiful campus also offers a full range of social and cultural activities and organizations for you to explore. At UCLA, you will be challenged to confront, understand, and master a remarkable range of disciplines that are the measures of a cutting-edge education. Our students are active and engaged in the classroom, in our residential campus community, and throughout the dynamic city of Los Angeles that we call home. We believe the opportunities and education students receive at UCLA are second-to-none and we hope that you will choose to join us this fall.

In the coming weeks, we will provide you with a number of opportunities to engage with our students, faculty and staff as you explore UCLA. I would encourage you to take advantage of these events and connect with the UCLA community!

Your next step is the formal acceptance of our admission offer, which you can complete at the New Bruins website, www.admission.ucla.edu/newbruins/tr. The site also includes information about important deadlines and your housing application. Please review your Admission Contract to ensure that you will continue to meet the conditions of our offer. For your reference, your UCLA Student ID is 706-128-174.

For now, enjoy this moment and what it signifies—that you are about to begin one of the most exciting chapters in your life. I hope you are excited about the journey ahead! Los Angeles is about dreaming big, so I encourage you to realize your dreams here at UCLA. Again, congratulations!

Sincerely,

Gary A. Clark, Jr.

Dear Future Bruin:

Congratulations on your admission to UCLA! We are thrilled at the prospect of welcoming you into the Bruin family and helping you build your future here. You have persevered in the face of incredible challenges these past few years, and I hope you take enormous pride in your accomplishments and all that brought you to this point.

We're inviting you to join the UCLA community because of your outstanding achievements and potential to break new ground and improve the world. Once a Bruin, you will begin a transformative experience as a valued member of a global university that thrives on advancing intellectual curiosity, deepening skills and knowledge, and serving the public good.

UCLA is an inclusive and diverse community that welcomes people of all backgrounds. No matter who you are or where you come from, you have a home at our institution. Here, you will befriend and grow alongside brilliant classmates from nearly 100 countries pursuing more than 125 undergraduate majors. You will also learn from — and collaborate with — internationally renowned faculty across a spectrum of academic disciplines, from the arts to the sciences. Relationships you develop here will benefit you throughout your personal and professional life.

While you will be challenged at UCLA, you will also be supported by advisors, mentors and peers who are dedicated to helping you get the most out of your time at our university. We want to ensure that you have a wonderful experience and take advantage of all that UCLA offers.

We understand the ongoing challenges presented by the COVID-19 pandemic, and we are committed to keeping our campus community safe. Last fall, we were grateful to welcome students back to enjoy a traditional on-campus UCLA experience, and we expect to do the same in fall 2023.

I very much look forward to having you join our remarkable community and seeing what you'll accomplish at UCLA. And now, I'll end with a phrase I hope you'll grow to know well: Go, Bruins!

Sincerely,
